Choosing your Hotels

The accommodation you choose will make a real difference to your experience and enjoyment of India. Hotel standards and styles vary considerably. The choice is large, especially in big cities, ranging from basic to super-deluxe. In smaller locations the choice can be limited.

The hotels specified for all itineraries have been chosen to provide varied examples of what is possible in terms of standard and ambience. Hotels constitute the major element of a tour cost and the category of the hotels you choose will reflect this.

Note: Houseboats in the backwaters (Kerala) have been categorized as Standard in the accommodation chart. All are air-conditioned and comfortable. Standards may vary a little from boat to boat.

Kadavu Resort

Historic palaces, manor houses, royal guesthouses and other historic properties that have been converted into hotels are referred to as "Heritage Hotels". Each is unique and they vary in terms of quality, prices, standards, service and facilities. We strongly recommend that Heritage properties be considered for inclusion in your itinerary.

In wildlife parks accommodation will be in jungle lodges and tented camps. Some are run by private companies, others by the government.

We have designed the accompanying chart for easy reference and to aid you in selecting your hotels. It lists properties specified in the itineraries in this brochure. Many of the hotels belong to well known groups like the Taj and Oberoi, plus many independent properties. Should you be interested in specific hotels not listed here, we will be happy to discuss them with you.

Hotels in the chart have been broadly classified into 5 categories, mainly based on price and standard of rooms, facilities, hygiene and service. Heritage Hotel classification is based on these qualities and their history. They are also noted by an asterisk in the chart. Standards can vary within each category and also with the passage of time. We are happy to offer advice on hotels when planning your holiday.

Deluxe & Super Deluxe
5-star Deluxe hotels offer excellent accommodation and amenities, which will include central air-conditioning, swimming pool and a choice of restaurants/cuisine. Service will be personal and attentive, and all facilities normally associated with this category can be expected. Includes some Heritage Hotels. Super Deluxe hotels provide even higher standards of refinement and luxury, reflected in their tariff.

First Class
4/5-star hotels provide good, air-conditioned accommodation with choice of restaurants. Most will have a swimming pool. Includes some Heritage Hotels. Although classified as First Class, some lodges and camps in or near national parks are not strictly comparable to 4/5 star properties.

Heritage (Marked with an * in the chart)
Heritage Hotels are former forts, palaces, royal town houses, guesthouses and other historical properties. Each has a unique character. Furnishings are often family heirlooms, and together with distinctive architecture, reflect their noble past. They provide excellent personal service in superb surroundings. Most Heritage Hotels are in Rajasthan, but some have now opened in other areas including South India. Standards and facilities vary.

Standard
3/4-star hotels provide adequate air-conditioned accommodation and modestly good food. Comfortable accommodation at reasonable prices.

Basic (Not listed in the chart)
1/2-star properties provide basic accommodation and food. These hotels are suited to one-night stops where nothing else is available. Includes some lodges and camps in national parks with basic facilities. Probably not air-conditioned, they may have fans. Hot water may not be available all the time.

Boutique Hotels & Home Stays
Very individual, Boutique hotels, sometimes overlapping with Heritage Hotels or Home Stays, are increasingly interesting options. Often privately owned and run, emphasis can be on hospitality and local knowledge, gastronomic experience or distinctive décor. A fascinating and enjoyable alternative to a larger hotel. We are happy to advise you.

Higher Grade Rooms and Suites
Many hotels offer higher-grade rooms or suites. The tours in this brochure are based on using standard rooms in each hotel category. We will be pleased to advise on room up-grade options and supplemental cost. The suites in many heritage properties reflect their royal past.
